

Money Pouring Into Vet's Office to Care For Ailing Donkey

Meagan Kelleher, FOX 4 Web Producer

4:20 PM CST, February 5, 2010

GRANDVIEW - A donkey who has warmed the hearts of passers-by in Grandview for decades is getting some love in return. The donkey, named Ebenezer, is sick and his owner can't afford to pay for his care.

When news of the 30-year-old donkey's health problems became public, hundreds of people started sending cards and money.

Dr. Keith Wagner said people from as far away as Ohio have sent money to pay for the animal's care.

"We are dealing first with a lung infection, a low grade lung infection and he has some severe dental issues that we need to resolve and also has a disease in the feet called white line disease," Dr. Wagner said.

Dr. Wagner said his clinic has received well over $5,000 and the mail is still pouring in.

Read all 6 comments »

Type in your comments to post to the forum